FOUND DEAD.

Why did he do it? He had everything to live for—happy home, wife, friends, money; but he shot himself through the heart. Why?

He couldn't have given a good reason himself. But everything looked gloomy to him. He was in a gloomy frame of mind. It was the way he looked at life that day. He had been living in too much of a hurry, rushing and driving at business, hustling through his meals, cutting short his sleep. His nerves got on edge; his stomach and nerve centers with healthy, highly vitalized blood, and drives out the "blue devils" of melancholy and nervousness.

When the digestion is out of order there is little use trying to look on the bright side of things, practically there isn't any bright side. This is a dangerous condition to get into. Yet it is easy to get into and mighty hard to get out of it, unless you go about it in the right way.

There is a remedy that has pulled thousands of people right out of this depth of despair. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly upon the stomach and liver. It restores their natural capacity to nourish and purify the system. It purges away bilious poisons, feeds the nerve centers with healthy, highly vitalized blood, and drives out the "blue devils" of melancholy and nervousness.

Dr. Warner, No. 1000 O Street, Sacramento, Cal., writes: "During the last five years I have been doctoring with as many as six different doctors here and in San Francisco for diseased stomach and liver. The doctors gave me even temporary relief. Two years ago I completely collapsed, and had to give up all work. I have felt many times that I would like to leave this world. In looking over the ads in the San Francisco Examiner I ran across yours, and I now owe my life and present good health to Dr. Pierce's medicinal pills. I have taken fourteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four little vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I am entirely well of all stomach trouble. Can sleep nine hours every night, and am now ready to go to work again."

"GHOST" DROVE THEM OUT.

The reason why Patrick McCauliffe moved himself, his wife, his baby and all his household belongings out of the house in north Fifth avenue, near Lincoln avenue, Mount Vernon, N. Y., Saturday, was because he was firmly convinced it was haunted. McCauliffe is a sober, industrious man, employed in a livery stable there. For the last two months the spooks have held him in the McCauliffe house, according to the stories told by him.

The house is an old two story frame cottage and was vacant many months before McCauliffe moved into it. It had then a reputation in the neighborhood as a haunted house. Often while McCauliffe and his wife were at breakfast they would be alarmed at the slamming of the doors in the upper stories. Investigation showed no reason for this. There were no draughts blowing through the rooms, nor were there springs on the hinges of the doors.

During the day, while Mrs. McCauliffe was attending to her household duties, she was constantly annoyed by groans, wild moans and yells and other noises. At night the spooks were louder in their manifestations. Groans, moans and sighing would reach throughout the house.

As McCauliffe sat upstairs rocking the baby to sleep, just before supper, one evening, he noticed the door which had been partly open, slowly closing. He put the baby on the bed and ran to the door and caught it by the knob. A force greater than his pulled the door shut in spite of the stalwart livery man. The next instant a frightful din sounded from the kitchen, as if some one was throwing the kitchen range around the room. McCauliffe ran down stairs and entered the kitchen. The water kettle and teapot lay on the floor. Two stove lids were also on the floor. The stove had cracked in two places.

After that McCauliffe looked for a new abode.

BRIDEGROOM LEFT BEHIND.—There was an incident at the Broad street station of the Chesapeake and Ohio depot Monday night that will not be forgotten by the spectators and the one actor. A man, with a bundle in his hand, was seen to rush up the track after the outgoing 10:20 train. He failed to overtake it and came back to the platform and swooned in a gentleman's arms. He was quickly brought around and then explained that his bride was on the train. He was almost distracted and it was with difficulty that he could tell the true situation of affairs.

He finally explained that his wife and himself had boarded the train, and a few minutes before it started he stepped off to purchase fruit. In this way he had missed the train and his wife was riding westward while he remained in Richmond.

A sympathetic bystander volunteered to assist him and advised that a telegram be sent to the first station where there was an operator. Atlee's was the place that the message was sent. It reached the wife and she left the train there. She was considerably wrought up over her husband's failure to catch the train and had all sorts of fears that he had met with harm.

The bridegroom hired a vehicle and drove to Atlee's. He reached there late in the night.

The couple, it is said, were from New York and simply passed through the city.—Richmond State.

J. C. Berry, one of the best known citizens of Spencer, Mo., testifies that he cured himself of the worst kind of piles by using a few boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He had been troubled with piles for over thirty years and had used many different kinds of so-called cures; but DeWitt's was the one that did the work and he will verify this statement if any one wishes to write him.
